

Swallow Nest from

Cheep Nestboxes

Guidelines

A dry spring can spell disaster for Barn Swallows, which need soft mud to construct their nests. Our artificial Swallow Nests make good starting points and may be used simply as they are, or the birds may increase the depth and diameter of the cup, but Barn Swallows will readily adopt these “boxes”.

The Swallow Nests should be placed inside an outbuilding with constant access for the birds to the outside. Although Barn Swallows are gregarious birds, multiple boxes within the same building should be spaced no less than 1m apart.

Place the boxes high up near the roof of the building on a vertical surface and if possible ensure they can be seen from the bird’s point of entry.

IMPORTANT

Under the terms of the Wildlife and Countryside Act, if un-hatched eggs are found in the box, they can only legally be removed from October to January inclusive, and they MUST then be destroyed:

IT IS ILLEGAL TO KEEP THEM!
